

This course is designed to use basic anatomy and physiology to identify and describe the human body. Such as the skeletal system. Letter interested in working in the medical field. This course is related to the medical work and body parts. This course covers the basic anatomy and cultural differences in anatomy.

Spanish language. This course provides students the opportunity to learn Spanish. Topics include getting to know the patient, gathering medical history, and cultural topics related to the Latino community. Requests.

0

Transferable to CSU only